ABOUT ATIMEME

January 2022 -

Atimeme Meme Creator Releases the Much-Anticipated App Update to the Android World.

The South African meme creator app, Atimeme, released its latest version (v4.4) to the Google Play Store on March 10, 2021. The Android meme maker offers its users a sophisticated yet user-friendly platform featuring the latest meme tools to convert powerful ideas into sensational memes that could go viral in minutes.

The meme maker app acts as a medium of spreading much-needed humour and laughter across the globe during these difficult times. Both veteran meme engineers and amateurs are given the opportunity to portray their creativity and talent using unlimited in-app meme templates or by importing original templates from their devices. App users who prefer to have more action in their memes could also create GIF memes made possible by the GIPHY integration. Upon creation, all memes are posted on the respective meme maker’s homepage enabling followers to view, like, comment and interact with the creator personally. In addition, Atimeme allows users to download and share the latest memes Facebook, Twitter, Instagram and WhatsApp within a few clicks. Besides creating memes, users could also personalise their profiles, view the most trending memes and receive notifications on important updates through the app.

ABOUT ATIMEME

Atimeme is the best meme creator in the market for international meme engineers who aspire to share their sense of humour with the world. It is a fully-fledged social media network and content creation platform built around sharing humour. Meme creators could conveniently utilise inbuilt collaborative tools such as the group chat feature to build active networks of users with similar interests.

Furthermore, the Atimeme TV features short funny videos created by the talented pool of meme makers. The premium version of Atimeme meme creator that can be purchased for a $2 monthly subscription provides a range of exclusive features such as information on meme downloads and profile views, recognition within the community as a 'Meme Engineer', and an ad free experience. The subscription comes with a 4-week trial period.

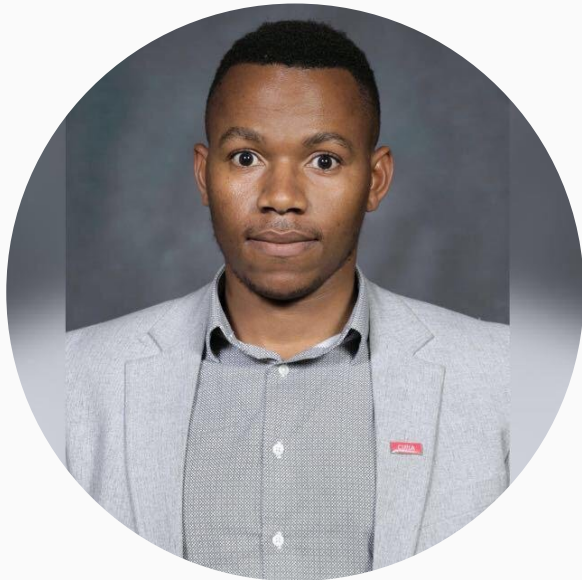

Adding an element of mystery to the shared content, Atimeme allows meme makers to produce text posts and anonymous confessions with customised backgrounds, where the background colour and filter can be altered within the app.
